SUBMITTED TO A PRIMARY

Of White Voters To Be Held
Next Thursday.

THE DISPENSARY QUESTION.

The Matter Argued Before The Legislative Committee in Raleigh Yesterday Afternoon.

On next Thursday the white voters of the city of Greensboro will say whether or not they want a dispensary. The matter was argued at length before the legislative committee in Raleigh yesterday and an agreement finally reached between Senator Wilson, Representatives Bunch and Kennett and the dispensary delegation that the question be submitted to a primary of the white voters of Greensboro to be held next Thursday. If a majority of the votes cast at said primary be in favor of the dispensary our representatives have pledged themselves to use their best efforts to cause the bill to be enacted into law.

The Morning Post this morning contains the following account of the meeting and argument before the committee:

There has never been a finer delegation of citizens in Raleigh than the one which came in yesterday from Greensboro. All business and professions were represented, the members in favor of the dispensary predominating in the ratio of ten to one in the delegation.

Greensboro's most eminent preachers, lawyers and merchants were in the throng, and while the interest was intense, there was no manifestation of bad temper. The committee came near not materializing, so many being sick or absent. However, after an hour's delay, Senator Wilson, the chairman, succeeded in getting four together.

After an hour's argument, several members of the house committee came in and joined the senate committee. The facts of the case can be gleaned from the speeches made which were, in substance, as follows:

Mr. A. M. Scates said: The petition here represents a large number of the city of Greensboro. This legislature was elected on the question of white supremacy, and we do not desire to have the negro vote on this grand moral question and stifle the wishes of this great majority of white citizens. There is no politics in this question. Both the chairman of both parties have sent you certificates to that effect. Every name on this petition is a registered white voter, and the opportunity has been given in public to every man whose name is on this petition to erase his name, and not a man has asked to have his name taken off. We offered to hold a primary if the dispensary opponents would submit to the result, but they refused to agree to this.

Rev. Dr. Johnson said the business interests of Greensboro were here to add emphasis to the demand of a dispensary. We also are here to present the moral influences of a community. The moral influences of a community necessarily affect the business prosperity. It is not questioned that a dispensary improves the moral tone of a community. You have heard a great deal about white supremacy in the past few months. I come to you now that that question has been settled right, in behalf of the noble women who are anxiously awaiting to hear that the terrible temptation of open saloons is taken away from their sons and brothers at Greensboro. Their names are not on that list because we told them it was not necessary. We don't wish this question referred to the vote of the people, because there is no politics in it, and we do not wish the negroes of our good city to lay down a rule of moral government for us.

We ask you for this dispensary because it is right. The dispensary removes the social feature.

Mr. J. S. Hunter, president of the Greensboro Immigrant and Industrial Association, advocated the dispensary from an industrial standpoint.

Mr. R. R. King said: The four registration books of Greensboro taken inside shows 1,494 white voters as registered last fall. There are three distilleries just beyond the mile limit called for in this bill. The names on the petitions against the dispensary represent the very best men in Greensboro—merchants, most of them, representing the largest business interests of the city. There are many whole-sale businesses recently established in Greensboro, and the names on this petition represents largely the men who have made Greensboro remarkable for progress in the last few years. Several men on the other petition want the question submitted to a vote of the people, notably Col. Osborn and Gen. Glenn. We condemn the last general assembly for taking away the right of local self-government. Can we afford now to follow that bad example and force such a measure on our people without a right to vote? I go further and say that any movement of this kind now is ill-advised. We have just passed through a terrible ordeal and have come through it successfully. But there is another great load to carry, and it is imprudent to add a single straw to the burden. I do not know who refused the proposition to submit the question to a vote of the people of Greensboro. The pamphlet presented by the other side is not a fair presentation of the vote of the city. Leave this matter alone for two more years at least.

Governor Stedman said he did not know much about the merits or demerits of dispensaries. If there are three distilleries in a mile of Greensboro the dispensary will do harm undoubtedly. High Point has had prohibition from its first incorporation, and is cursed with "blind tigers." There are no better men in North Carolina than those whose names are on the petition for a dispensary. The names on the other side represent as good people as the state affords. Many of the names on the petition for a dispensary signed it with the idea that it would be submitted to a vote of the people. The democratic party will never pass a summary law without submitting it to a vote of the people. It is contrary to the genius of the democratic party. Mr. Scates says he and the republican chairman have agreed to keep this question out of politics. They had just as well attempt to stop Niagara with a straw or bombard Sebastopol with a popgun. They can't do it. If you pass a bill of this kind you stab the democratic party in its vitals. In the absence of posting a notice of application for the passage of this law for thirty days, you cannot do it. This is a public corporation, and Section 3111 of The Code prohibits it. To get rid of that, they put a repealing clause of this section in their bill. Can they, by an illegal act, repeal a law? The law says you shall not consider this bill unless it appears that the law has been complied with.

Ex-Judge McRae said he did not think the establishment of a dispensary by any means the settlement of a moral question. The moral sentiment of any community under the present local option law can wipe liquor entirely out of any community. Unless the thirty days' notice was posted at four public places before this application was forwarded for a dispensary, they cannot get it.

Rev. Dr. Wood said: There is no question that one dozen saloons are not more demoralizing than one dispensary. Greensboro is prosperous, but no one will argue or admit that it is owing to the saloons, but in spite of them. The gentlemen on the other side argue that it is not right to pass this law without submitting it to a vote. They will know that our representatives will have a better chance to kill him.

Rev. Dr. Smith said: Three-fourths of the petitioners presented here to you against the dispensary are fraudulent. There are not over one hundred names of voters of Greensboro against a dispensary. I do not impute any possible share in any kind of a fraud to the attorneys who are opposing this bill. They are as incapable of fraud as I am. I claim to represent the best moral element of my town in this matter, and three-fourths of the white voters of the place.

Ex-Judge Hymus said: The only argument on the "other side" is that section 3111 forbids the sale of liquor without notice being posted for thirty days. The bill before you instead of prohibiting the sale of whiskey authorizes it, and actually takes charge of the sale of it. Under the police powers granted the city of Greensboro, we are only licensing the sale of liquor for one place instead of two. Whenever you see a lawyer trying to scare you on a point of law, you may know he's got a mighty weak case. Look all around this room, gentlemen, and until you strike the Cone Export and Commission company you will find an almost solid array of business men in favor of this dispensary. Seventy-eight merchants of the city of Greensboro are on this petition. I will never believe that the democratic party can be driven from her moorings of white supremacy by the question of whether liquor shall be sold from a saloon or a dispensary. Never will I believe that the democratic party is held together by the cohesive power of whiskey plunder. Do you pretend to say that the democratic party of Greensboro is held together by nine bar-rooms? The petition for a dispensary is signed by three-fourths of the white voters of Greensboro, headed by the honored chairman of the democratic party of Guilford county, under whose distinguished management she rolled up a majority of 1,100 for white supremacy.

Senator Wilson, chairman of the committee, called Senator Hicks to the chair, and said he thought he ought to let the committee know his sentiments on the question of a dispensary for his town. Not a man who is here has ever had a blemish on his name. They all voted for me and are my friends. I have studied this question carefully and looked into it as best I could. I told the delegation this morning I thought it best to submit this question to a vote of the people. Since then I have argued, wish to submit to them that within the next ten days they submit this question to the white voters of the city, and if it is decided by a majority to have a dispensary, then I will do all I can to pass the bill.

MORE FIGHTING AT MANILA

Rebels Opened Fire on Kansas Outposts.

BATTLE LASTED THREE HOURS.

Twenty Thousand Filipino Driven From Their Trenches with Heavy Loss—American Loss Small.

By Cable to The Telegram.
Manila, Feb. 9, 7:30 p. m.—Our forces attacked Calocan this afternoon. This action was short and decisive. The Filipinos were driven out of their entrenchments, our soldiers charging fiercely over all obstacles and engaging the foe in a hand to hand conflict. The rebels fled in all directions and were mowed down by our fire. It is estimated that fully twenty thousand were in the trenches. Our losses were comparatively small, while the rebels lost heavily.

The fighting lasted three hours with Gen. Otis in command, assisted by the gunboat Concord, the monitor Monadnock and a line of artillery.

In response to Dewey's threat to bombard San Roque the rebels hoisted a white flag. The Fifty-first Iowa entering shortly after, found the village evacuated and burning.

DRIVEN TO COVER.
Manila, Feb. 10, 10:00 a. m.—The rebels at this hour have selected Malabon as a base of operations for the next encounter, and a considerable force is concentrating there. Many small bodies are straggling in from the interior. Aguinaldo is reported to have established his headquarters at Malabon, where he will rally his forces to strike a decisive blow. In order to cover these movements, the rebels again opened fire on the outposts of the Kansas regiment from a jungle, which was kept up for twenty minutes, but without effect. Our troops reserved their fire until a detachment of the enemy emerged from the bamboo, when a volley was fired into their ranks, which made the rebels scuffle for cover.

PRECAUTIONS UNNECESSARY.
Manila, Feb. 10, 3:40 p. m.—In anticipation of an uprising the city took unusual precautions to guard against surprise last night, but it proved unnecessary.

No vessels have cleared Manila for Philippine ports since Saturday, and no news has reached outside points. Even the guard of the Pennsylvania regiment, conversant with the hospital on Corregidor island knowing nothing of the hostilities until the supply boat notified them yesterday.

DISPENSARY DELEGATION.

Return Thanks for Courtesies Extended Them in Raleigh.

The delegation of citizens of Greensboro who spent yesterday and last night in Raleigh in the interest of a dispensary for this city returned at noon today in their special car which the Southern Railway provided for the trip. On arriving at Raleigh yesterday morning they were met at the depot by Messrs. Wilson, Bunch and Kennett, the legislative representatives. From that time each man felt that he was welcomed in Raleigh and the stay was a pleasant one. On the return trip this morning the delegation unanimously adopted the following expression of thanks:

"This delegation from Guilford county on behalf of the dispensary, desire to return thanks to our representatives, Messrs. Wilson, Bunch and Kennett for kind courtesies shown us while in Raleigh."

The Last of The Gang.

Officer Scott left on the noon train today for Reidsville, taking with him Hampton Farrell, colored, who is charged with assisting in the robbery of S. H. Eubank's clothing store and gun-tunings store at Reidsville, a few weeks ago. Farrell would have been taken back with his accomplices, whom officer Scott captured here last week, but was serving a term on Guilford's roads. The negroes caught last week implicated another negro, who was working in Salisbury. Officer Scott notified the sheriff of Rowan, and the negro was captured and carried to Reidsville night before last.

Mr. Scott thinks he now has the entire gang, though Farrell says there are two more in Reidsville, whose names he does not know, but whom he can identify.

Change in Business.

J. C. Oliver yesterday purchased one-half interest in the business of Henry Hunter, the well-known grocery-man of Collin's corner, Davis and Sycamore streets and hereafter these popular gentlemen will combine their interests. Mr. Hunter is an efficient business man, who knows how to cater to the wants of the public and with Mr. Oliver's influence and assistance will be prepared to increase his stock and to better accommodate his customers.

We wish the new firm much success.

Two Brass Bands.

Messrs. Sergeant and McAdoo have purchased with two brass bands to furnish music at the skating carnival which promises to be the greatest success of anything of the kind ever given in Greensboro. Handsome prizes will be awarded the most graceful and expert skaters.

Cure a Cold in One Day.

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All drug stores refund money if it fails to cure. 25c. The genuine has L. B. Q. on each tablet.

THE COUNTY ROADS.

In a Horrible Condition—A True Story.

We are reliably informed that the roads are in such bad condition that numbers of people living in the country walk to town in preference to riding and taking chances of their vehicles breaking down. We have also been told by a most trustworthy and truthful gentleman that before the present freeze a man walking on one of our county highways discovered a hat which he picked up, not suspecting that the owner was near, when to his amazement a voice from the mud exclaimed: "Put my hat back on my head! I'm bald-headed, and besides I have a wagon load of hay and a team of horses in this infernal mud."

We will state that the man who discovered the hat is a stranger in these parts; otherwise he would not be so surprised. Moral: Let the county commissioners take up the work of macadamizing.

On Their Bridal Trip.

Mr. J. A. Efrid and bride, nee Miss Mamie Stafford, who were married yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents in Winston, passed through the city last evening enroute south on their bridal trip. After attending Mardi Gras at New Orleans, the happy couple will spend a short while in Florida, before returning home.

Mr. Efrid is the well-known and popular manager of the Hotel Phoenix, at Winston, while the bride is one of that city's most charming young ladies.

Attention Firemen.

Every fireman of the city is expected to attend the regular monthly meeting of the department on Tuesday night, Feb. 14th at 8:15 p. m. in the hall of the Steamer Co. No. 1. We must get in shape for the coming tournament, and discuss other matters. Remember the time and place.

By order of
W. R. Pleasant, Chief.
E. L. Clarke, Secretary.

FRIDAY, FEB. 10, 1899.

The proposition to submit the dispensary question to a primary of the white voters of Greensboro is entirely fair to both sides. The primary will be held on Thursday.

After nearly fifty years of fruitless agitation for a new county composed of parts of lower Richmond and upper Robeson the effort has at last succeeded, the legislature on yesterday passing it with a whoop. The new county will be called Scotland.

The shortage caused by the penitentiary mismanagement, it is now thought, will reach $200,000. And this in the short space of two years. We all know that two years ago Hon. A. Leazar retired and left the institution self-sustaining with a small balance to its credit.

The hearing by the legislative committee in the Wilsons case at Raleigh is to close tonight, when the argument of counsel will be ended by Judge J. C. Bynum and Judge A. C. Avery. The case has attracted much attention the senate chamber being full last night to hear the speeches of Messrs. Douglas, Burton and Day.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

North Carolina Mill Man Tries to Kill Himself on a Train.

New Orleans, Feb. 9.—J. M. Ruffin, of Rocky Mount, N. C., today attempted to commit suicide on a sleeper on the Louisville & Nashville train by slashing his wrists. When the train arrived here Ruffin was taken to the hospital. He is in a serious condition, owing to the loss of blood, but was able to speak. He said he was the superintendent of a cotton mill in North Carolina, and that he was coming here to the carnival; he had no family and was tired of living. He had $1,420 in cash on his person, and a check and other valuables aggregating $21,000.

Mr. Ruffin was secretary and treasurer of one of the largest cotton mills in the state, at Rocky Mount, and a successful man in his affairs. He is a member of the distinguished Ruffin family of Hillsboro. We regret to hear of the ill health that produced such unfortunate results.

Cannot be Passed Too Soon.

Had we not believed before that there was necessity for a law providing for separate railroad cars for whites and blacks, what we saw at the depot Friday morning would have convinced us of its necessity. The first-class coach was entirely monopolized by negro soldiers—some of the notorious Third North Carolina regiment—returning to their homes from Macon, and the white passengers occupied the second-class car. Among these were the wife and children of the writer, who had to ride thus from Hamlet to Lumberton. Besides this inconvenience and discomfort, there were a number of negroes in the second-class car, and smoke from cigars and pipes made the trip anything but pleasant. The valiant colored fighters said they would die before they vacated the first-class car and being a tough lot had their way. We have seen in other instances where ladies had to ride in second-class cars because negroes monopolized the first-class ones, and want to see the evil corrected by law. The bill to do this by providing separate coaches cannot be passed too soon.—Lumberton Robesonian.

Dewey Writes to Children.

New Orleans, Feb. 9.—Children of the McDonough public school wrote to Admiral Dewey a letter a short time ago, and were delighted to receive a letter from him today in which he says: "My dear little friends: I have received your very nice letter. It gave me much pleasure to know that you are my friends. On this day of 'good will and peace on earth' I hope we may have no more war; but if we should, may your patriotism inspire our men to greater deeds of heroism."

It's rather strange that paintings by the old masters are rare, because they're always well done.

WHO ABETS THE FILIPINO.

A Letter Which Declares They Are Secretly Encouraged.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 9.—The Globe this afternoon prints a letter received in this city from First Lieutenant Henry Murray, Quartermaster of the First South Dakota volunteers of General Otis' command in the Philippines, which says that as far back as the middle of December, Aguinaldo and his followers were being encouraged and aided by some outside source, and that the opening of hostilities was expected by the United States troops. The letter which bears the date of December 10th, says, in part:

"A couple of nights ago we expected the insurgents to attack us, but it fell through, like many of their threats. Some one is working them up. One cannot tell the end. We are ready. The American troops are in no temper to stand any fooling. In Manila, those that controlled, do not want to lose power and sink into obscurity."

COMMISSION DISSOLVED.

Its Report in the Hands of the President.

Washington, Feb. 9.—The report of the war investigating commission is now in the hands of the president. Its scope was indicated last night. The report points out that while there were many attacks made in the public prints, the witnesses failed to substantiate them. General Miles is blamed for allowing such beef as he described to be issued to the army and for not promptly calling attention to its quality. Reference is made to his testifying under oath. Nothing is said of Eagan. One of the commissioners in an interview states that, "we started out with the assumption that the conduct of the war was all right, and then we went ahead to hear and call witnesses who said it was not." The commission is now dissolved.

The Grapho Grand.

A very small audience attended the Grapho-Grand concert at the opera house last night. The concert given by Mr. Rivenbark, the manager, is one of rare enjoyment. The instrument reproduces sound as distinct as the original, several pieces by famous comedians, hands etc., being played understood by the audience. On account of the extremely cold weather, the Grapho-Grand will not be heard tonight.

A Clever Trick.

It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can try it who has lame back or weak kidneys, malaria or nervous troubles. We mean he can cure himself right away by using Electric Bitters. This medicine tones up the whole system, acts as a stimulant to liver and kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic, cures constipation, headache, fainting spells, sleeplessness and melancholy. It is purely vegetable, a mild laxative, and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Electric Bitters and be convinced that they are a miracle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c a bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

A Haunted House.

"The haunted house in this case," said the old college man, "was occupied by a very estimable and intelligent gentleman. He did not believe in ghosts, but two nights had made him look old and careworn, and there were certainly loud, strange and startling noises in his attic. They would continue right up to the time that some one entered the haunted room, but the opening of the door was the signal for a most oppressive silence."

"Half a dozen of his college fellows asked permission to investigate, and it was gladly granted. We waited till we heard the noise, and I assure you that there was plenty of it. It continued until we had crept up stairs, but ceased when we entered the attic. We waited there without result till big Hicks of the football team, carried out a plan. We closed the slide to the dark lantern, slammed the door noisily, as though leaving, and then settled down to wait. Presently the noise began. We flashed the light in its direction, and there was a big rolling back and forth rapidly, the handle striking the floor with a loud thud."

"Must be spirits in that jug," laughed big Hicks, but his laugh was a tremble. "We'll see," and he let go with one of his fanciful kicks that shattered the uncanny vessel. Then every fellow let out a yell and jumped as though trying to knock a hole in the roof. A rat had crawled into the jug and had been frantically trying to get out."—Detroit Free Press.

The Platform Woman.

"The platform woman never has been a credit to, but ever a blot upon, American womanhood. I make this emphatic statement from a personal knowledge of the homes which these women leave behind when they go to their meetings," writes Edward Bok in The Ladies' Home Journal. "I have seen the rooms of their homes left in wild disorder; I have seen their servants sitting in idleness with work on every hand to do; I have seen the children neglected and left to their own devices; I have heard husbands speak in derision of the motives of their wives. No woman in a happy American home can ever afford to listen to these parasites of her sex."

"Fortunately, the platform woman's influence is steadily on the wane. She was never a power. She was never even picturesque. Her worst injury was wrought upon certain weak women who for the time she deluded. But even with them she was soon regarded with wonder rather than with interest; with suspicion rather than with confidence. The disappearance of the platform woman is a case of a blot being blotted out."

Successive Steps In Success.

The ambitious amateur went to see the experienced theatrical manager.

"I want to be a star actress," she said. "What do you advise me to do?"

"H'm—have you ever had an affair of the heart?"

"Well," she whispered, "two or three young fellows are breaking their hearts about me."

"That won't quite do. Go and get your own heart broken," he said, "and then come again."

"She had had something like this before, and she went away with her chin in the air."

A year later, however, she returned.

"Well," she said, choking down a sob, "I have come back to you—heart broken. I married one of those young men. He treated me shamefully and has deserted me!"

"Ah, that is something like," said the manager, rubbing his hands together. "We are getting on. Only one thing more is necessary. Get a young woman—get your divorce, and then we shall want you."—Chicago Tribune.

Landmarks.

Every town has a liar or two, a smart Aleck, some pretty girls, more loafers than it needs, a weak or two, a couple of tattlers, an old fogey that the town would be better off without, men who stand on the street corners and make remarks about the women, a man who laughs an idiotic laugh every time he says anything, and a few more of the kind. I don't know of a town where there are not a few of these things. I don't know of a town where there are not a few of these things. I don't know of a town where there are not a few of these things.

Wanted Something Quicker.

Some few years ago I issued a policy on the life of a man who was far from being a model husband. I called for the premium every week and rarely got it without a grumble from the wife. The last time I called she said:

"I ain't going to pay you any more. There's Mrs. Smith only had her old man in M.'s society three months, and he's dead and she's got to pay for it. I'm going to put my old man in that society you needn't call again."—Liverpool Mercury.

The Time It Worked.

Little Johnny always wanted to sleep in the morning, and finally Papa McSwatters wondered how he would ever get the boy up betimes. At last he struck upon the following:

"Johnny, the furnace fire is all fixed, and the ashes have been carried out, and the leaves raked. Breakfast is almost over and only three pancakes left."

An Antique Weapon.

"You are an iceberg!" exclaimed her elderly but well preserved adorer, pale with anger and mortification. "A dozen Cupids with a hundred arrows each, could never find a vulnerable place in your flinty heart!"

"Not if they used an old bean to shoot with," Mr. Wellup, coldly replied the young and beautiful Miss Fylype.—Chicago Tribune.

No Cure—No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for Chills and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter nauseating tonics. Price, 50c.

The smallest things may exert the greatest influence. De Witt's Little Early Risers are unequalled for overcoming constipation and liver troubles. Small pill, best pill, safe pill. Howard Gardner.

The Dispensary Fresh.

The Cape Fear, after reaching about 54 feet during last night, four feet behind the record, is now gradually falling. The Hurt would not risk the run to Wilmington this morning among the drift-wood, so tied up for today. The Driver is expected up from Wilmington this afternoon. The Atlantic and Yadkin trestle across Lock's Creek, just beyond the big iron bridge, owing to a washout in the embankment, was condemned this morning and a special train went down from here to meet the train from Wilmington and a speedy transfer of passengers and baggage was made. The water in Cross Creek was backed up to Eccles' bridge this morning.—Fayetteville Observer, 8th.

Henry's New Cabinet.

San Juan, Feb. 9.—Governor General Henry has appointed Francisco Acuna, Independent Liberal, now Attorney of the Supreme Court, to be Secretary of State; Dr. Coll, Liberal, has been appointed Secretary of Finance, and Federico Degetan, Radical, has been appointed Secretary of the Interior. The Liberals are dissatisfied with General Henry's change of policy. Munoz Rivera announces his intention of going to Washington soon in order to "secure relief from the oppressive militaryism," which he says "will estrange the Porto Ricans from the United States."

Little Pimples Turn to Cancer.

Cancer often results from an impurity in the blood, inherited from generations back. Few people are entirely free from some taint in the blood, and it is impossible to tell when it will break out in the form of dreaded Cancer. What has appeared to be a mere pimple or scratch has developed into the most malignant Cancer.

"I had a severe Cancer which was at first only a few blotches, that I thought would soon pass away. I was treated by several able physicians, but in spite of their efforts the Cancer spread until my condition became alarming. After many months of treatment and growing steadily worse, I decided to try S. S. S., which was so strongly recommended. The first bottle produced an improvement. I continued the medicine, and in four months the last little scab dropped off. Ten years have elapsed, and not a sign of the disease has returned."

E. F. WILLIAMS, Gillesburg, Miss.

It is dangerous to experiment with Cancer. The disease is beyond the skill of physicians. S. S. S. is the only cure, because it is the only remedy which goes deep enough to reach Cancer.

S. S. S. For the Blood

BLOOD CURE SENT FREE.

If you have tried sarsaparilla, patent medicines, and doctored, and still have old, persistent skin sores, pimples, distressing eruptions of the skin, painful sores on hands, arms or legs, itching sensation, irritating skin troubles, eczema, scrofula, ulcers, contagious blood poison, fever sores, mercurial rheumatism, catarrh, boils, face covered with little sores, cancer or any blood taint, then give B. B. B. a trial, because B. B. B. is the only blood medicine made for just such cases, and it cures to stay cured. These stubborn blood diseases that other milder medicines fail even to benefit. All above named troubles are evidence of bad, diseased blood in the body, and B. B. B. cures because it forces all the poison or impurity or blood humors out of the body, blood and entire system. To remove all doubt of its power to cure we offer to send to any sufferer a sample bottle of B. B. B. absolutely free. B. B. Opening of the Social Season and Inauguration of the Magnificent

New York & Florida Limited Service
JANUARY 16, 1899.

The opening of the Florida season will be signaled this year as usual by the placing in service of the "New York and Florida Limited" between New York and St. Augustine, Fla. This is acknowledged to be the finest train in the world, in its appointments, luxury and detail of finish, and the first of these trains was constructed by the Pullman company for the use of the President of the United States on official tours.

"The New York and Florida Limited" leaves New York daily except Sunday at 11:50 a. m., via the Pennsylvania Railroad, the Southern Railway, Florida Central & Peninsular R. R. and the Florida East Coast Railroad, and reaches St. Augustine at 2:20 p. m. the following day, making the run, which exceeds 1,000 miles, in little more than twenty-four hours. No train has attracted so much attention, and its fame has been heralded wherever railroading is known. It is composed of Pullman compartment cars, each room being finished in different woods and supplied with private lavatory and toilet; Pullman drawing-room sleeping cars of the latest pattern and finish; a royal club car for the gentlemen; an observation car with a handsome drawing room at its rear opening out to a wide platform; a library car, and dining car, in which the service and the cuisine rank with the finest New York hotels. This "New York and Florida Limited" runs through solid to St. Augustine with the exception of one car which is detached at Columbia, S. C., and goes through to Aiken, which it reaches at 9:35 the next morning after leaving New York, and Augusta at 9:50. Brunswick and Jacksonville are conveniently reached by this train at 12 o'clock noon through the perfect connections afforded at Everett, Ga.

There are two other fine trains between New York and Florida via "The Florida Short Line," one the "Washington and Southwestern Vestibule Limited," leaving New York at 4:20 p. m. daily, and the "United States Fast Mail," leaving New York at 12:05 midnight. The former train carries through Pullman drawing room sleeping cars between New York, Jacksonville and Tampa, and also offers Pullman sleeping car service between New York and Augusta, Ga., with connections for Aiken, Brunswick and Jacksonville. The latter carries through drawing room sleeping cars between New York and Jacksonville, connecting with parlor car service to points on F. C. & P. R. R. and F. & E. C. Ry. Dining cars are operated on all trains of the Southern Ry. "The Florida Short Line" in connection with the Florida East Coast Railroad to Miami offers the most direct, quickest and delightful service to Nassau, Havana and Key West. For full information, reservations, etc., apply to J. L. Adams, G. E. A., E. C. & P. R. R., 353 Broadway, New York, or to A. S. Thwaites, E. P. A., Southern Ry., 271 Broadway, New York.

A Shoemaker's Account.

There was a shoemaker I met not long ago, says a writer in Chambers' Journal, who had a most elaborate method of keeping his "books." Against the wall of his workshop he had a large board erected, which he painted black. Into this board he used to drive hobnails, tacks, brass and steel rivets and other nails used in his trade to represent work done. For instance, the selling of a pair of boots would be represented by a small piece of leather tacked on to the board by means of a brass rivet, but if the boots were hobbled, then a hobnail was used instead of the brass rivet. A steel rivet indicated a patch on the sole, and a patch on the upper was shown by the addition of a piece of thin leather. New boots were shown drawn in chalk, as were also the hicroglyphics representing the customers' names.

Some peculiarity of manner, dress or surroundings was chosen to indicate whose account it was. The person's account was placed under the rough drawing of a church; the curate, who wore glasses, was represented by a sketch of them; a couple of circles, one blank and one with a dot in the center, stood for the postman, who had lost one eye. A beer barrel was the innkeeper's sign; the village pump did duty for the milkman, while the schoolmaster was represented by the drawing of a cane. The old man was a great wit, but he never had his accounts challenged in spite of their quaintness.

Concerning Appendicitis.

Dr. H. R. Lemen of Alton, Ill., says: "I often meet people who have such a wholesome fear of appendicitis that they do not eat grapes, tomatoes, figs or fruits containing little seeds because of a fear that these seeds will lodge in the appendix and cause appendicitis. "Whenever I hear a person say he denies himself fruits because of this fear I take occasion to assure him that it is useless to take any such precautions. If you like fruit, eat it, for appendicitis, seven in ten instances, is due to other things than seeds. Little particles of food of any kind can lodge in the appendix and produce appendicitis, even a bread crumb being capable of it. In addition, a great many cases are caused by something entirely outside the appendix, something causing the inflammation.

"To all I would say, 'Go ahead and eat anything you like, for all precautions you may take are not going to save you from appendicitis if you are going to have it.' The inexplicable things to which the majority of cases are attributable cannot be guarded against, and it is useless to fight the minority."

Sam Hodgkins' Will.

"Sam Hodgkins," says the Lewiston Journal, "was in his day and generation a much respected citizen of Hancock, and, like his son Dudley, better known as Uncle Dudley, was well known all over the eastern portion of the country. A amusing story is told by some of his old acquaintances to an eastern Maine paper of how he once made his will. It happened to be done at a time when the old man was in one of his happiest and most generous moods, and, realizing no doubt the uncertainty of his existence, he decided he would bequeath to his seven sons—Dudley, Zachariah, Moses, Sam, Shem, Gee and Elliot—his worldly goods and possessions.

"He was very anxious that the will should be legal, and was careful lest any of his children might be left unmentioned in some way. So the old man drew up the instrument in part like this: 'Half to Dud, half to Zack and all the rest to Moses. Shem is blind, Sam is poor, Gee has moved to the Falls (Sullivan Falls) and Elliot is the baby.' As the will was never probated it answered the purpose just as well as any."

Bismarck and the French.

Bismarck had no great opinion of the French. He believed that they are too easily swayed by popular catchwords. "Talk to a Frenchman about liberty, equality and fraternity, tell him that his nation is the greatest in the world, and you can do anything with him. You can impress the French more than any other people if you tell them it is done in the name of freedom."

Asked his opinion in the case of a certain French spy, he said: "It's a sad case. You've got to hang him, but do it with the utmost politeness, so as not to hurt his feelings."—Exchange.

Equal to a Fairy Story.

Bilkins was seated in an easy chair enjoying his paper while his wife was busy with fancy work. Bobby, the 4-year-old son of the household, on the floor was fighting a battle with tin soldiers. Presently the little fellow tired of his play and exclaimed:

"Mamma, won't you please tell me a fairy story?"
"I don't feel like it tonight, Bobby," said Mrs. Bilkins. "Go and get your papa to tell you what detained him down town so late last night."—Ohio State Journal.

Mixed the Combination.

He is one of those gushing old beaus who think flattery the key to favor with the gentler sex. The other evening he was at a reception with his wife, and they met the handsome Miss Blank, at whom he fixed a whole battery of compliments. Then turning to his wife he said, "It's a good thing I didn't meet her before I married you, my dear."

"Indeed it is," she smiled sweetly, "for her. I congratulate Miss Blank."—Exchange.

A Delicate Distinction.

"How much does your position pay?" asked the rural relative.
"I don't know as I could figure it up offhand," answered Senator Scroggins.
"You surely know your own salary?"
"Yes, but that isn't what you asked me."—Washington Star.

NORTH CAROLINA

By virtue of the powers conferred upon me by the Superior Court of Guilford county in a cause therein pending, entitled, Nellie Albright, et al., vs. J. W. Albright, et al., as commissioners, sell at the court-house door in Greensboro on the first Monday in March, 1899, the six (6) day, to the highest bidder at public auction, for cash, the following described and bounded land, to-wit: A house and lot on Cedar street, in the city of Greensboro and 100 acres of land on the north side of the road, to-wit: J. W. Albright on the west, and others, containing one-half of one acre, more or less, and a small tract of land on Cedar street, in the city of Greensboro, containing a nice five room cottage, good well and a barn. It being the home place of Joe Albright, deceased.

This 28th day of January, 1899.
J. L. BROOKS, Commissioner.

A Bush Woman.

Close to the wagon we met a bush woman, one of Indowkita's people, reduced by starvation to the most emaciated and pitiable condition. Her husband had been killed by lions some days before, though she herself had escaped with her life. On her back and shoulders had ripped away great strips of flesh. Long clots of blood had dried on her body; the wounds had not even been washed. I gave her some meat, which she seized upon and at once ate ravenously. The bones were almost through her filthy skin; her little beady eyes set close together under a low, retreating forehead, her flattened nose and large protruding lips, concealing what little chin she possessed, gave her a look most uncanny and repellent.

Altogether more like an animal than a human being, she seemed to me the lowest type of womanhood that I have ever been my fate to look on. There are numbers of bushmen and their wives who live in this miserable condition, wandering through the veldt with no other means of subsistence than such trash as wild roots and berries. Some of the men have guns and ammunition, and they spend their whole time in shooting. When they kill a buck within reach of water—say ten miles—the whole family congregates on the spot, sits round the body and gorges itself until every scrap of flesh and skin has disappeared.—Blackwood's Magazine.

The First John Jacob Astor.

Although Mr. Astor had led a life mainly devoted to business interests, he found great pleasure in the society of literary men, says Mrs. Julia Ward Howe in The Atlantic. Dr. Cogswell made his home with us for some years after the closing of his famous school, but finally went to reside with Mr. Astor, attracted partly by the latter's promise to endow a public library in the city of New York. This was accomplished after some delay, and the doctor was for many years director of the Astor library. He used to relate some humorous anecdotes of excursions which he made with Mr. Astor. In the course of one of these the two gentlemen took supper together at a hotel recently opened. Mr. Astor remarked, "This man will never succeed."

"Why not?" inquired the other.
"Don't you see," replied the financier, "what a large lump of sugar he puts in the sugar bowl?"

Once, as they were walking slowly to a pilotboat which the old gentleman had chartered for a trip down the harbor, Dr. Cogswell said, "Mr. Astor, I have just been calculating that this boat costs you 35 cents a minute." Mr. Astor at once hastened his pace, reluctant to waste so much money.

Reassuited the Pet Kitten.

A well known East End doctor tells a story of his experience many years ago. He was at college. A girl whom he knew and admired had a pet kitten that in frisking around broke one of its hind legs. The fair mistress was in despair and in extremity asked her medical student friend to try his skill on the pet. He consented and took his father's messenger boy, who was used to the surgery, to apply the anæsthetic. The doctor made the amputation and was sewing up the flap beautifully, when the boy gave a yell and said the kitten was dead. It had been chloroformed to death.

The doctor knew that the demise of the pet would kill his hopes with the mistress. He had only one alternative, artificial respiration, and seizing the forepaws he set to work. In ten minutes he saw he was saved, for the kitten began to breathe. It was restored, minus one of its claws, to the girl, who never knew how near it came to being buried in the back garden.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

A Wall Paper Trick.

"An old fellow came along the other day," says a Philadelphia restaurant man, "who gave me a pointer I have never dreamed of. He came in and offered to patch up all the bad places in my wall paper and so skillfully that I couldn't find a place after it was done. Well, I hadn't any patching to do, but I bet the old chap a quarter and his dinner that he couldn't do what he said. I tore a patch out of the wall paper, and when he was through eating he went to work.

"The first thing he did was to cut a piece of blank wall paper big enough to cover the hole and paste it over. Next he took a brush and painted a ground the same as the other paper. Then, kick me if he didn't take other brushes and colors and paint in the design of the paper. I willingly yielded up a quarter with the dinner and was satisfied when I saw the alacety and ease with which the fellow did his work."—New York Tribune.

Wise Lead.

"What will happen to you if you are a good little boy?" asked the kindly old woman.
"I'll get a stick of candy for being good."

"And what will happen to you if you are bad?"
"I'll get two sticks of candy for promising to try to be good."—Chicago Post.

Squaring Up.

Freddie's Papa—What do you intend to do with the hole in that doughnut when you get all the cake eaten from around it?
Freddie (after serious thought)—I guess I'll give it to little sister, to pay for the bite she ginned out of her apple.—Chicago News.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are anxious to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, have given away over a million dollars in bottles of this great medicine, and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of helpless sufferers. Bronchitis, Hoarseness and all diseases of the throat, chest and lungs are surely cured by it. Call on C. E. Holton, druggist, at get a trial bottle free. Regular size 50c and $1. Fire in the Citadel.

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 9.—Fire has just been discovered in the Citadel. Its extent is not definitely known. Clouds of smoke overhang the city. A general alarm has been running on the city fire service, and soldiers have been piped out and are at work with the city department. The fire is difficult of access to the fire service, being over 150 feet above the sea. Great quantities of explosives are stored there, but are in underground vaults.

Dangers of the Grip.

The greatest danger from La Grippe is of its resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for La Grippe we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure La Grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by C. E. Holton.

Rev. Frank W. Gunsaulus, of Chicago, Ill., will succeed Dr. Hillis, of that city, who has accepted the pastorate of Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, N. Y.

An Honest Medicine for La Grippe.

George W. Walt of South Gardner, Mo., says: "I have had the worst cough, cold, chills and grip and have taken lots of trash of no account but profit to the vender. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the only thing that has done any good whatever. I have used one 50-cent bottle and the chills, cold and grip have all left me. I congratulate the manufacturers of an honest medicine." For sale by C. E. Holton.

For La Grippe

Thomas Whitfield & Co., 250 Wash. ave., corner Jackson st., one of Chicago's oldest and most prominent druggists, recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for La Grippe, as it not only gives a prompt and complete relief, but also counteracts any tendency of La Grippe to result in pneumonia. For sale by C. E. Holton.

The annual exhibition and convention of the American Street Railway Association will be held in Chicago, Ill., on October 10 next.

Mr. S. A. Fackler, editor of the Micanopy (Fla.) Hustler, with his wife and children, suffered terribly from La Grippe. One Minute Cough Cure was the only remedy that helped them. It acted quickly. Thousands of others use this remedy as a specific for La Grippe and its exhausting after-effects. Never fails. Howard Gardner.

La Grippe is again epidemic. Every precaution should be taken to avoid it. Its specific cure is One Minute Cough Cure. A. J. BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Be on time at the Normal tonight. Doors open at 7:45, entertainment begins at 8:15.

On account of the severity of the weather the Grapho-Grand performance at the Opera House tonight has been cancelled.

This cold weather calls for something warmer. In Howard Gardner's ad today you will find a list of hot drinks of all kinds.

Two new stoves have been placed in the skating rink and the house will be heated for the comfort of those who attend the carnival.

The greatest skating carnival ever held in Greensboro will be given at the rink Monday night. More than twenty costumes have been promised by local skaters, besides a number from a distance.

The remains of Mrs. Robins, who formerly lived a few miles from this city, were brought in today and interred in Green Hill cemetery. Mrs. Robins died in Graham yesterday. She was about 60 years old.

Dr. E. R. Micheaux was called to Friendship this morning to assist Dr. Robertson in trepanning the skull of young Charles Hunt, who was seriously if not fatally wounded yesterday afternoon, by a kick from a treacherous mule. The hoof landed on the back of the young man's head, crushing the skull.

ENTERTAINMENT.

To be Given at The State Normal Tonight.

On Friday night, February 10th the students of The State Normal and Industrial College will give an entertainment complimentary to the legislative committee. One of the chief objects of this entertainment is to give the friends of the College in Greensboro an opportunity of meeting socially for a few minutes, the members of the legislative committee. There will, therefore, be no charge for admission to the entertainment, and the general public will be welcomed.

The doors will not be open until 7:45 and the entertainment will begin at 8:15. Charles D. McIver, President.

Tenth of February, 1781.

This day 118 years ago, Gen. Greene began his wonderful retreat from Guilford Court House, before Cornwallis who was that morning encamped this side of Salem. That was an exceedingly cold winter and the weather today, 10th Feb., 1899, teaches us what the patriots of that day suffered for us and what we owe their memory at old Guilford Battle Ground.

LINK'S FATHER HERE.

Came to Go His Son's Bond, But Changed His Mind.

J. C. Link, of Arnold, N. C., father of the young man T. R. Link, alias Dunn, who is now in jail for forgery, was in the city yesterday. He came up with the intention of giving bond and releasing his son, but it seems he concluded not to do so, as the young fellow is still in confinement.

T. R. Link, who according to his father's word, is not yet 21 years of age, claimed to be 26 before he was arrested. His mother died nine or ten years ago, and since then the old gentleman has had a pretty hard time trying to raise the boy right. He would stay at home for a few days at a time, and then perhaps for two or three months at a time would be away, nobody knew where. It is probable that on some of his runaway trips he learned the "art" of forgery which has landed him behind the bars. During the last few years the chap has preached some, probably when he was hard up and wanted to raise a collection.

It would be useless for the friends and relatives to put up the amount required as bail, for the evidence is strong, and Link would hardly stay in these parts and stand trial, no matter what the consequence to his bondmen might be. And the fact that his bond money was forfeited would not free him, as he would be liable to capture and trial at any time. So it seems he is destined to remain in "durance vile" till court.

A Serious Charge.

Annie Wright, colored, was given a hearing yesterday afternoon on a charge of writing anonymous letters of the most scurrilous and blasphemous kind. The defendant had been employed as cook by a family in North Greensboro, and for some time has been writing anonymous letters to the lady of the house. Officer Scott has been at work on the case for several days and has collected some strong evidence against Annie. She was bound over to court.

Midwinter Closing Sale of
Our Large Stock of Shoes.

Once every six months we hold a genuine closing out sale. Our Spring Shoes are now in process of making and before they will arrive we expect to close out the greatest part of our present great shoe stock. Of course we will have to sacrifice profit and even part of the cost of many of our shoes, but we will not summer over any of our winter shoes, no matter how great our loss.

The sales opens Thursday morning, so come early before the sizes are broken up
